OBSOLETE PRODUCTS CEASING REPAIRS IN 2016

The following relays have previously been made obsolete and have not been manufactured for some time. We have continued to support these products, however, critical components required for repair are no longer available.

The following relays will cease being repaired on 20 December 2016.

A current product model is listed for replacement, however due to changes in Standards and technologies, the replacement models cannot always be a direct retrofit. Users should assess the replacement models application prior to purchase.
